WIMBLEDON CHORAL SOCIETY

Mozart's Mass in C is not called "The Great" for nothing. It is thought to have been written between 1782 and 1783 as a thanks offering after his marriage to Constanze Weber and is widely regarded as one of the three greatest mass settings ever written. The choir are being accompanied for the first time by The New London Soloists Orchestra which comprises some of London's most talented young musicians.

Can we help you with Promotional Events, Corporate Entertainments, Civic Events, Festivals, Weddings, TV & Radio Incidental Music, First Nights, Sponsorship Opportunities? We have experience in all of the above fields with singers from between 20 and 150 people. Contact: The Press & Publicity Officer, 50-51 High Street, London, SW19 5AX. Can you help us?

New singing members particularly sopranos, tenors and basses are welcome. Applicants are given a short informal voice test. The Society gives concerts of the highest quality, presented with professional soloists and orchestra in all the major London concert venues.

Would you like to become a Friend of the Society and receive such benefits as reserved seating where applicable, advance notice of all choir events, free participation in choral workshops, and invitations to social events? Contact: The Friends Secretary, Wimbledon Choral Society, 28 Pine Grove, London, SW19 7HE. Email: friends@wimbledon-choral.org.uk

Why?

Because we are a dynamic and committed group, dedicated to producing musical events of the highest standards with a view to broadening both our own horizons and those for whom we perform. Wimbledon Choral Society have recorded for the BBC and made several TV appearances on Breakfast Television, Sports Review of the Year, Blue Peter and Songs of Praise. We regularly perform at the Festival of Remembrance at the Albert Hall in November.

Comments made by concert-goers:

"...cannot think of a choir of such focused sound and delivery..."

"...absolutely spellbound..."

"...never heard a choir sing with such unity of purpose..."
